GAGE OF BATTLE HAS BEEN THROWN DOWN

It Will Be Taken Up and Fought to a Finish, Says Mr. Shaw

Declaring that the government have lured support from the Western Progressives at the expense of eastern industrialists in the tariff changes in Thursday's budget, Mr. H. C. Shaw, former president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, has gone strongly on record as being absolutely opposed to the changes.

"Every business man in Canada is gratified that the period of uncertainty regarding the government's action in respect to the tariff is over," he says. "I think when the recommendations of the finance minister are analyzed, the reductions and changes will be far-reaching in their effect upon our economic structure."

"Perhaps the Government has realized this, perhaps not, but it is well the declaration of the finance minister has cleared away the mist of uncertainty so that each voter can bring home to himself the effect of the tariff changes."

"Thousands of business men in Canada held to the opinion that there was not a sufficiently marked difference between the view held by Mr. Fielding and Mr. McLaughlin, because those who were liberal in sentiment to sever their party connections."

"We know now that Mr. Fielding's views have been disregarded and the government, at the bidding of the Premier for Progressive support in the house, have disregarded the effect of their policies upon the financial condition of the nation. The gage of battle has been thrown down. It will be taken up and fought to a finish."

"Personally, I believe that if we are to survive as a Canadian nation, separate and distinct from the United States, all our legislation should be enacted with a view of an eastern and western traffic and development of Canadian ports at the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard. Our great transcontinental transportation systems must have this traffic, and this traffic show that industry supplies their greatest revenue. We want no class legislation in this country, and the changes initiated in the tariff are a direct class and sectional appeal."

"I believe the nation will rally. At the first opportunity at the ballot box they will return to the old national policy and the Canadian character. Let me use the words of Lord Beaconsfield in a great speech, 'have faith in the Canadian character, during elements of Canadian character, it may now be in the spring, but it is the season of the year, the midnight of the intoxication. Let us tell our Progressive friends of the west that if they succeed in destroying the principle of protection of Canadian industries, a dark and inevitable hour will come when they do and their spirits are softened by misfortune they will recur to those principles."

CONDOR W.I.
A very successful meeting of the Women's Institute of Condor was held at Condor on Thursday, April 17, with sixteen ladies present. Some discussion took place re the fee of $7 for the constituency fund, and it was decided to write to Headquarters for further information. An interesting paper was read by Mrs. H. J. Eastman on the "Making of Good Canadian Citizens." The lecture showed that much could be done through the schools, social clubs, churches, etc., but without sympathy towards each other no progress was possible. It was moved by Mrs. E. Meeres and seconded by Mrs. J. Reeser that Mrs. Eastman's paper should be forwarded to Headquarters.

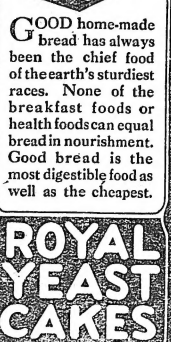

Mrs. J. Reeser then gave a lecture on "Meat Curing." Her recipe was noted by everyone present and should prove to be very useful. At the conclusion, on the motion of Mrs. A. K. Blair and Mrs. Porter, a vote of thanks was given to both Mrs. Eastman and Mrs. Reeser for their helpful talks. Lunch was served by Mrs. Stammers and Mrs. E. Meeres, after which, on the motion of Mrs. Bice and Mrs. L. Coughlin, the meeting adjourned until Thursday, May 21, when Mrs. H. Eastman and Mrs. E. Meeres will give a demonstration in the Condor hall on "Home Nursing." This meeting is open to all members of the community.

A social and concert was held on Friday, April 18, under the auspices of the W.I. The programme opened with "The Maple Leaf," sung by the members of the W.I., after which Mrs. Porter sang very prettily "Pal o' Mine" followed by a recitation, "Sammy's Letter," given in a very able manner by Mrs. J. Negeard. Miss M. Schmitt then sang "Tillie," and gave as her encore "Pal of My Dreams." Next, Mrs. Eastman sang "Roses of Picardy," followed by a recitation "The Happy Farmer" by Dale Blair. "The Star of the East" was sung by Rosemary Carter, after which Miss Schmidt again delighted the audience with a song, "Just a Girl That Men Forget," followed by Mrs. E. Meeres, who sang "Anchored." Mrs. E. Meeres concluded the programme with a medley of old songs, in which all the audience joined. A spelling match followed, the winner, Mrs. C. D. Smith, being presented with a novel by Mrs. Frost, the President of the W.I.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, April 24th.

Cattle.—Beef—Holidays kept business somewhat light at Calgary, but there were quite a few sales on Wednesday and all prices steady. Some of the steers a little higher, but the market better quiet. Choice heavy and medium, $18 to $19; light steers, $16 to $17; stock cows, $14 to $15; good, $12 to $13; poor, $10 to $11. Choice calves, $18 to $19; stock calves, $14 to $15; good, $12 to $13; poor, $10 to $11. Choice hogs, $14 to $15; stock hogs, $12 to $13; good, $10 to $11; poor, $8 to $9.

Calgary prices strengthening during the week and thick smooth, off cuts; bacon gets 10 percent premium; today's price, $17.00.
Edmonton hogs during the week have been selling at $16.75 to $16.85, thick smooth, off cuts; bacon gets 10 percent premium.

Sheep.—Receipts at Calgary light and prices probably steady if the right kind of weather; lambs up to $13.25; wethers up to $11; fat ewes $8.

Not enough sheep sold at Edmonton this week to establish values, but they unchanged, with choice lambs up to $12; wethers up to $12, and ewes up to $8.

Grain.—There has been a firm market on wheat all through the week, with of course slight fluctuations, but keeping up very well. Most of the farmers are now more interested in a small seedling than in selling, but work in Alberta has been delayed by the late spring and the ground generally will be in good condition so far as moisture is concerned.

Butterfat—Butter.—Cheese—centralizing points are now quoting specials 20c No. 1, 25c No. 2, 30c, and off grade 35c, central points, with shipping charges deducted and an additional 5c off for the return of the can. Country point creameries are 2c under these prices, but pay the same prices at shipping points for what they get by express. Creamery Butter—Cartons unchanged, but likely to go down a cent or so any day. Car lot prices down and the bids are down to 26c, special, Alberta points. No outside markets very attractive, most of western make going to the coast.

Dairy Butter.—Receipts and supply light, fancy table grade 22c at market and dealers giving 17c to 18c. No. 1 in quantities. Cheese—Market unchanged but seems likely to drop, as market is poor. Factories buying milk on cream basis of prices.

Eggs—Poultry.—Eggs—Unchanged and receipts only moderate, many shipments coming in from country points for storage; Calgary and Edmonton dealers paying 30c on extras; No. 1, 16c; No. 2, 15c; No. 3, 14c. Poultry—Receipts light and demand moderate; live hens 13c to 14c; live turkeys 16c for No. 1.

Potatoes.—Market quiet, though some cars being shipped to the coast from northern points.

Hides.—Buyers and tanners still quite a piece apart in opinion of values and market slow. Sheep pelts are fairly good sellers. Horsehair holds firm.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Canada's immigration agencies in Great Britain employ 126 people at a total annual payroll of $136,372. In continental Europe there are 25 immigration agents, whose payroll is $18,919, and in the United States there are 61 at an annual cost of $90,172.

The strides made by the automotive industry during the last decade have been remarkable. The motor car is no longer regarded as a luxury. It has attained its rightful place as a utility. The first auto was sold in Canada in 1898. Today the total registration runs close to 556,000. Over 1,000,000 are now in use. Some 996,529 autos entered Canada during 1923 for touring purposes, representing a traffic value of $170,000,000. Thus the auto took fourth place as a revenue producer.

Canada has 277 Judges on the active list and 38 retired on pensions, it was stated in the House today in answer to a question. Salaries of the active Justices total $1,082,400, and they incurred $289,000 in expenses last year totalling $1,371,400. There were 289 Judges in 1919, but total salaries in that year were $1,452,554, revision having taken place since then.

A circular issued by the Montreal Board of Trade, placing Canada's net debt at $3,121,000,000, was the subject of a question in the House by Fernand Rinfret (St. James). The acting Minister of Finance replied that the Government had seen reference to this in the press. The circular apparently purported to include contingent liabilities in connection with the Canadian National Railway. The actual net debt of the Canada government for the budget was $2,423,367,759.

METHODIST W.M.S. OFFICERS

President—Mrs. Caracallen. First Vice-President—Mrs. L. J. Porter. Second Vice-President—Mrs. G. W. Smith. Secretary—Mrs. F. J. Caracallen. Treasurer—Mrs. Seaman. Supt. Systematic Giving—Mrs. Churchhill. Strangers' Secretary—Mrs. G. W. Smith. Mitebox Secretary—Mrs. H. W. Tremblay. Social Secretaries—Mrs. Humber and Mrs. Usherwood.

The Auxiliary had had a good year having more than raised their $100 allotment for Miss Ward's salary on the foreign mission field, and increased their membership materially during the year.

FIRST FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

Issued by Department of Agriculture,
Government of Alberta, Edmonton.
Saturday, April 19, 1924.

Opening of the 1924 crop season finds soil conditions somewhat more favorable, generally speaking, than was the case 12 months ago. The winter was extremely mild, but the frequent falls of wet snow, while having been absorbed by the land and have made moisture conditions very satisfactory.

Over the majority of the province there is sufficient moisture in the soil now to germinate the new crop. In the south-eastern section of the province, however, soil conditions are very dry, there having been very little snowfall during the winter, with low precipitation during the spring.

The lateness of the spring has retarded work upon the land in most parts of the province, and it will be another week at least before spring operations become general. In a few isolated cases work is being done on the land, and there are one or two reports of seedling having been commenced. General seeding operations, however, will be about two weeks later than last year.

In spite of the open fall, very little fall plowing was done last year, owing to the prolonged harvesting of the heavy crop. The summerfallow ready for seeding this spring is about the same extent as last spring, and there will be an increase of land put in summerfallow this season.

The success last year of new fodder and pasture crops such as corn and sweet clover will tend to bring under cultivation even greater areas of these crops in the south of the province.

Livestock was never in better condition. The large amount of feed produced last season, and the mildness of the winter has brought them through the winter season in excellent shape. There has been a brisk demand for farm labor, and the provincial labor branch has been very busy during the past few weeks placing a large number of hands, many of whom are immigrants from European countries. The demand is continuing to a certain extent.

IT CAN BE DONE

"Somebody said that it couldn't be done."
But he, with a chuckle, replied "That 'maybe it couldn't,' but he would be one."
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried. So he buckled right in, with the trace of a grin.
On his face. If he worried, he hid it. He started to sing as he tackled the thing.
That couldn't be done, and he did it. Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do it!"
At least, no one ever has done it. But he took off his coat and he took off his hat.
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it. With the lift of his chin, and a bit of a grin.
Without any doubting or quitting; He started to sing as he tackled the thing.
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done.
There are thousands to prophesy failure; There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you; But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Then take off your coat and go to it. Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing.
That "cannot be done," and you'll do it.

The Passing of Coal and Bunk

AND so the World goes on. Old, goes far as human knowledge goes, yet ever changing, ever new. There are still some among us, grey haired men they are, who remember the clipper ships which years ago forced the galleon from the sea, and the great four-masted barques that are now seen only in island trade or the privileged few. Except for a few schooners which ply the fishing banks, the sailing vessels have gone the way of all things, and in their place we see the steam driven vessels, gigantic, palatial, and so different in almost all their aspects from the wind propelled vessels as to almost belie their origin. There came coal. Coal revolutionized the shipping industry. As the marine engine was improved upon and developed, this commodity became more and more in demand until it became a necessity. Larger ships were designed and operated than ever before; they became more spacious, commodious and faster than ever before. Cabins were improved upon; sleeping banks converted into staterooms; the old bunks were arranged as to ensure privacy for the occupant; the state room was evolved.

And so the shipping world goes on. Oil is now coming into its own. The navies of the world are converting their older war ships into oil burning vessels and designing many of the additions to fleets on the use of oil; and for some years past the steamship companies of all nations have been making great attention to oil as well as to coal supplies and resources.

The Canadian Pacific Steamship Company early appreciated the advantages offered by oil, and the latest conversion to be announced by

Many of the rooms that are equipped with the best furniture have also an ingeniously arranged berth which folds into concealment on the wall, thus affording accommodation for an extra member of the family party when so desired. This ship, the Empress of France, has been chosen to cruise around the world in 1925 under the Canadian Pacific management. It will sail eastward from New York on January 27th and during its five months itinerary will be the only object in many an ancient port to exemplify the last word in modernity.

SCHOOL EXTENSION

As our readers will have noted, the question of school buildings in Red Deer has been engaging the attention of the School Board for some time past. Of the various proposals before the Board that which seems to be most favoured by the members is the building of a brick veneered annex to the present High School. This would provide two more rooms, but it also proposed to give up the present tenancy of the Parish Hall, so that actually the new building would not result in more accommodation being available for children.

The proposal is of doubtful wisdom. The High School building was condemned years ago. It is very expensive and difficult to heat, which is the main objection urged against the Parish Hall. It is lacking in sanitary accommodation. It is put in a bad way and the new scheme to put in a new heating system and lavatories, but even so the building will be unsatisfactory. We understand that its walls are not above suspicion in respect of stability. In view of this it seems a short sighted policy to build an annex to the High School building. The result might be that in a few years the annex would be involved in the condemnation of the old building, and all the money spent on it would be lost. Capital expenditure at the present time ought to be restricted as far as possible, and such as is inevitable should be devoted to getting the most enduring results possible. A makeshift policy is likely to be a wasteful one. If, as seems possible, we are on the eve of a great increase in the population of the province through immigration, school extension on a really large scale may soon become a necessity, in which event the building of an entirely new school hall would be undertaken. Under these circumstances most of the citizens would, we believe, be against the Board's present proposal and in favour of a waiting policy for the present.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

In the present session of the Dominion Parliament at Ottawa a motion was brought in and defeated for the abolition of capital punishment in Canada. In Great Britain a number of the Labour members of Parliament favour its abolition, though the majority in Parliament are against it. Recent cases in Canada, including notably the Picciotto and Lassandra case, have caused great attention to be devoted to the matter.

This history of capital punishment is interesting. There is a rather widespread belief that capital punishment is most common in semi-civilized races, and that as civilization increases, capital punishment decreases. This is not wholly true by any means. For instance, in England the number of crimes punishable by death increased without check from the days of the Norman Conquest right down to the beginning of the last century little more than a hundred years ago. Thus at the date of the Revolution in England in 1688 there were 50 crimes punishable by death. In 1800 there were over 200 such crimes, a monstrous state of affairs, which in practice led to the refusal of individuals to give evidence against accused persons, of juries to bring in verdicts of guilty, and of executive authorities to carry out sentences. In other words the law fell into more or less general contempt.

From the beginning of the 19th century there has been a steady diminution in English law in the number of capital offences, and now both in England and Canada the death sentence is practically confined to the crime of murder, though the late war resulted in some instances of the death penalty being inflicted for treason, as in the case of Sir Roger Casement in England.

In the United States much the same thing has happened, though the law there varies in different states. Ten of the states have abolished the death penalty altogether. In others the law is approximately the same as in England. It must, however, be always in to 15, and good ones around 150

NO CASE—ABUSE THE ATTORNEY FOR THE OTHER SIDE

Mr. Daugherty, lately attorney general of the United States, was compelled to resign from that post by the request of President Coolidge as the result of the revelations and the charges made against his conduct of his department. He is now engaged in the attempt to clear his character by public statements of various kinds. It is a singularly vulgar and sordid attempt. There is little or nothing in the nature of an analysis of the facts and a reasoned demonstration of the falsity of the charges made against him. Instead there is a stream of scurrilous abuse directed at all his accusers. He suggests that the true cause of his downfall was a dark conspiracy made up by various senators of the United States in conjunction with the Bolsheviks of Russia, directed towards the complete overthrow of all existing institutions in the States. Such a defence might be expected of some ignorant criminal on trial for common swindling. Coming from a man who has held the highest legal post in the United States, it is simply amazing in its crude vulgarity and fantastic folly. It is a classic example of the familiar device of the shady lawyer with a bad case, the device of ignoring the relevant facts and concentrating on abuse of the accuser and his agents. That such methods in such a manner should be resorted to by such a man, and apparently given publicity in the United States press, is a damning revelation of the degraded condition of American party politics. It should be a warning to us to keep our own political doorsteps swept as clean as possible.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"The Canada Lumberman," a trade paper issued by the lumber interests, wants the oleomargarine ban lifted. Of course they would—oleomargarine is cheaper than butter—but we do not hear them asking for a revision of the tariff so that lumber from the States will come in cheaper.

Clean up and paint up. Repair buildings and burn rubbish. Let the prettiest city in Canada. Have us keep it so.

It is a healthy sign when there is so much repairing of buildings in the city. If buildings are kept in shape, they will provide revenue, the taxes will be promptly paid. If taxes are paid, conditions cannot fail to constantly improve.

CROWS AND HAWKS

(Contributed)

We notice that a war has been declared on crows in the neighbourhood. Indeed the sounds of the country, which would lead one to believe that chicken shooting had just started. This is a very useful movement, as the crow has increased so much in the last year or two that it is a veritable pest in this district. When in large numbers it is very destructive to birds, especially ducks and chickens, as it is a notorious nest robber.

We notice also, however, that many people are also shooting hawks and owls. The commoner hawks of the countryside, namely, the golden eagle, the sparrow hawk, are highly useful birds; the red-tailed especially being one of the most efficient and certainly the cheapest gopher-destroyers we know of. Certain hawks are destructive, namely, the goosehawk, duck hawk, pigeon hawk, Cooper's hawk, but these are decidedly scarce, and also very hard to shoot. It has been suggested that unless one is a sufficiently expert ornithologist to distinguish between hawks, it is advisable not to shoot at any as they are all owls, and all hawks except the four listed above, are protected by the Game Act, and it is an offence under that Act to shoot them at any time.

CORRESPONDENCE

Mr. Editor, The News:
Dear Sir: Please let me tell Mr. A. M. Steele, of Sylvan Lake, that he is very much mistaken in thinking my letter to The News of April 9th contained "innuendoes" or that I was speaking about the jury that sat on the Hansen case. Several newspapers contained editorials on the matter of the criminal code amendment which gives the appeal court the power to annul the verdict of juries. The Hansen case was not so much the question as was the amendment to the law. As The News says in its issue of April 23, "it is not so much Hansen as the law that needs attention."
Now The News by its first editorial in the matter "started something." It started a discussion on the amendment of the criminal code. I started the discussion, not of the Hansen case, but as to whether or not it was best to allow Supreme Court judges sitting as a court of appeal, to annul the verdict of the jury, not the jury that sat on the Hansen case, but any jury.
I have more confidence in the verdict of three Supreme Court judges than on any matter than I have of a jury chosen from among the common citizenry, and I told you why in my letter of April 9th.
AMOS WILTON.

HAYNES HAPPENINGS

For a while we had an overdose of correspondents for The News, so we had back for the other one to keep going. These we failed to report the splendid concert given us, half by local talent. The crowd enjoyed every bit of it. The guitars, violin, cello and kerosene were splendid, and the whole program would have been hard to beat. Sorry not to have reported at once.
Mrs. S. Candlish is spending a week or two with friends at Swanwell and Calgary.
While school is off this week the parents that are actually putting in a new floor in the Hopedale school so the children will not have to freeze their feet another winter.
Most of the schools are continuing this week. Miss Irish was only home for the Easter holidays.
Some of the young folks spent the end with Mrs. Westlin, north of Oliva.
Haynes has been getting steadily ten and a half feet wide on "business streets." These walks were all built as local improvements. The general feeling is that the two-thirds of the cost is charged to the property fronting them and where there is flankage two-thirds of the flankage is in fact theirs.
The debentures spread over thirty years, and the frontage tax charged against the property varies from 10c to 21c per foot on residential streets and 20c on business streets. No cement walks have been built on the frontage tax basis since 1914. Cement walks are all laid down by the city and gutter laid outside the walks, and boulevard have been constructed on all residential streets and on business streets. These walks have stood up very well on residential streets and on business streets. Some of the ten and a half foot sidewalks which were originally constructed to be repaired from time to time.

Up to the year 1910 all plank walks were laid for out of general taxation. In that year the policy was changed, and the whole cost of the walks charged to the property fronting or abutting them. These walks were laid as local improvements, the tax being per foot for 6-foot walks and 8c per foot for 6-foot walks, annually for seven years. All debentures issued or plank walks constructed under this policy have been retired. Plank walks are now laid to a street grade and are not to be replaced by concrete walks as can be depended upon, as after that time constant repair is necessary to keep them reasonably safe.
Cinder Walks
Nearly all walks laid since 1917 are of cinder with two side planks. These are quickly and cheaply constructed, are laid as near street grade as possible, and have proved serviceable and satisfactory. Where old plank walks have been laid to replace cinder walks have been laid as local improvements. Plank walks have been laid to replace cinder walks as can be depended upon, as after that time constant repair is necessary to keep them reasonably safe.
1. By petition of property owners assessed for over 50 percent of the value of the property affected.
2. By advertising the intention of the Council to undertake the work as a local improvement, in which case owners of property affected may petition against the work. Should cinder walks be laid as local improvements the prescribed procedure must be followed and debentures issued to cover the cost of the work unless provision is made for payment in cash by the property owners affected.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT ON SIDEWALKS

The Council, City of Red Deer: Gentlemen—
We submit report on sidewalks as requested:

Cement Walks
Cement walks laid are five and six feet wide on residential streets and a half foot wide on "business streets." These walks were all built as local improvements. The debentures spread over thirty years, and the frontage tax charged against the property varies from 10c to 21c per foot on residential streets and 20c on business streets. No cement walks have been built on the frontage tax basis since 1914. HILL END

All the industrial farmers of Hill End are very busy working on the land.
Mr. Clifford Hadley has gone to Claresholm to work.
Mr. Clarence Eger has recently rented a farm known as the old Berchshire place in this district.
Mrs. Hunt, of Red Deer, has been the visitor of Mrs. W. G. Healy.
Mr. Arthur Hadley is expected to pay a visit soon on his way to the Yukon.

KEYSTONE CHAPTER, R.A.M.

THE HANSEN TRIAL

Amos Wilton writes again this week on the Hansen trial, and we are glad to publish his letter in another column. While we agree in part with Mr. Wilton, he does not yet grasp our complaint entirely. Supreme Court judges are less likely to make mistakes than a jury. But a Supreme Court judge as equally learned as the three who sat on the court of appeal presided at the trial. He and the jury heard all the evidence and saw the witnesses, and he concurred in the jury's finding. The appeal judges did not hear the evidence, but apparently they did hear statements of fact by counsel for the defence. The amendment to the code was given no opportunity to rebut them. That is not as it should be. The amendment to the code was apparently slipped through the house. The Edmonton Journal, of April 24, in an editorial, said as follows:
HOW THE CHANGE WAS MADE
The federal member for Red

Deer, in whose constituency the Hansen trial was held, has taken up with the minister of justice the question of setting aside the amendment that was made to the criminal code last session, under which it was possible for the appeal court of Alberta to take the action that it did in that case. Mr. Speakerman states that the amendment went through parliament without his knowledge, or that of anyone else that he knows of being rushed through with a batch of other originating in the senate immediately prior to prorogation. Sir Lomer Gouin, who was minister of justice at that time, it is learned, intended to oppose the change, but it got through the house of commons while he was absent from his seat. The public's confidence in its parliamentary representatives must be greatly shaken by this revelation. Almost anything, it seems, could be enacted in the closing hours of a session, when the only thought in the minds of most of the members is to get home as soon as possible. The change in the code should certainly now be subjected to careful reconsideration and there should be no more incidents of this character. So long as parliament is sitting, there is no excuse for interference to its proceedings on the part of any one who has a place there.

New Sports Wear

Color is flaunted everywhere, but lines retain the extreme simplicity in accordance with the boyish style of the season. This season's sports clothes have been greatly influenced by the renewed vogue of the boyish styles. Every year the number of sports enthusiasts seems to increase. Hence the greater interest in correct sports garments. Knitted Dresses, Suits and Sweaters of a separate character, as well as the popular Flannel Dresses and Sleeveless Jackets, are in great demand. The golfing season has now begun, and the ladies would do well to look over our extensive stock and select their costume while they can have their choice.

Corsets

COMPLETE CORSET STOCKS

Every woman should include in her spring outfitting a new pair of corsets.

There is a Gossard model for every figure, whether tall normal, tall slim, tall stout, short normal, short stout, or short slim. Each model is made of suitable weight material, correctly supported to give the best and most comfortable service.

The new modes demand corsets without lacing. But they must be designed and made to fit perfectly. The Gossard elastic girdle is fashioned of close clinging brocades, alternated with knitted elastic, requiring no adjustment and no lacing.

Gossard Models sell at $2.50 to $8.50

"D & A" CORSETS

This stock is complete in all the up-to-date models. D & A is a back lace corset entirely different from Gossard, and with these two ranges of new models, as well as the regular staple styles, we consider we have the most complete and best selected stock ever shown.

D & A Prices $1.35 to $7.50

FANNING MILLS AND HOW TO USE THEM
The points to observe in fanning seed grain are: first, proper air blast; second, right size and combination of sieves; third, right speed; and fourth, running the grain evenly and thinly over the screens.
The wind supply or air blast in all machines is provided to remove as much of the lighter seed and chaff as possible. If the air blast is not sufficiently strong, the chaff and pieces of straw will find their way back into the sample, while if the blast is too strong, some of the good grain may be blown out. The air blast also serves the purpose of keeping the sieves clean of the lighter material, thus allowing them to do more efficient work. A trial of the air blast should be made with each new lot of seed to be cleaned in order to see that the correct amount of air is being supplied.
It also may be found necessary to change or readjust the sieves to get the best results. A good assortment of sieves is imperative and a test should be made with different types before undertaking to clean seed in order to ascertain those capable of doing the best work. The top sieve should be large enough to allow the seed to pass through, the remainder of the sample, such as chaff and pieces of straw, running over the top and out at the end of the mill. Sometimes it is expedient to alter the good grain at the back of the mill instead of at the usual feed point in order to get rid of a certain impurity that cannot otherwise be removed. The lower sieve or sieves should be large enough to allow the weed seeds or broken kernels to escape but fine enough to carry the good kernels over the top. If weed buckwheat is present, a sieve with triangular 3/4 inch holes or slightly bigger will be found a handy one to have.
The following sieves will be found useful for the cleaning of seed grain: WHEAT AND BARLEY—The upper sieve should be a zinc or tin perforated sheet with twelve, thirteen or fourteen sixteen-fourth inch holes. The lower sieve should be either a perforated zinc sheet with eight or nine sixteen-fourth inch holes or should be square woven wire mesh eight by eight or nine squares to the inch, or by ten, or two by eleven squares to the inch.
OATS—Upper sieves: zinc sheets with slots seven, eight or nine sixteen-fourth inch wide by three-quarter inch long. Lower sieve: zinc sheets with slots one-tenth to one-thirteenth inch wide by one inch long.
The feed should be adjusted to allow a thin, even flow of material over the top sieve.
A larger quantity of impurities be removed when the grain travels slowly over the sieves than when running quickly over them.
The makers of good fanning machines are always willing to give the advice as to what sieves to use. Should any particular problem arise, and in case of trouble they are often available to send a pound sample of the seed to be cleaned to the fanning mill manufacturer for suggestions as to sieves.

WEDDING AND PRESENTATION AT OLDS
(Olds Gazette, April 24)
A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Friday, April 19, at high noon in the home of the bride's parents when Eva, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Samis, became the bride of Paul T. McKee, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McKee, of Benito. The bride, who looked charming in a suit of black and peacock blue and carrying a bouquet of Ophiopeltis roses and ranunculus, entered the room on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Elsie McKee, sister of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Eleanor, who also wore a suit of navy, with hat to match. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. S. E. McKee. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Rev. W. S. Watson performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. McKee left on the evening train amid showers of confetti and the good wishes of her many friends in Chicago, where they are to spend some time at Moody Bible Institute, preparing themselves for work in the mission field.
A large number of the members and friends of the Olds Baptist church met in the church on Wednesday, April 24, in a social capacity to extend their best wishes to Mr. Paul McKee and Miss Eva Samis on the eve of their departure for Chicago. Mrs. Walter Biss presented, the pastor, who presented Miss Samis, on behalf of the church, with a leather suit case, referred to her faithfulness during her years of service in the church, and how that she is ever looking out for those who are true to his cause to see that they are not forgotten. In presenting Mr. McKee with a clothes brush in white ivory, the pastor referred to Mr. McKee's obedience of the divine exhortation, "That it is not good that man should be alone," and Miss Samis, who was with him as a life partner. Miss Nellie Burroughs, vice-president of the Young People's Society, spoke of the valuable services which the two departing friends had rendered to the Society, and while their friends were all sorry they were going away, yet they were glad they were going away only to enter into a larger sphere of activity for the Master. Mr. Benjamin Bullard, superintendent of the Sunday School, in a neat little speech, wished the two young friends every success, and gave them some valuable advice in the culinary art. Mrs. Watson rendered a solo, and a duet of Misses Pullens and Garrison was also much enjoyed. A dainty lunch, served by the ladies of the church, followed the meeting, and was closed with the Mizpah Benediction.
It is interesting to note that this makes four volunteers who have gone forth from the Olds Baptist Church during the past three years to train for the Ministry.
The many friends of the McKee family in Red Deer and district went will extend the heartiest of congratulations to them all over this happy event and will extend most heartfelt wishes to the young people in this dedication of themselves to the high purpose ahead of them in foreign missionary service.
Over 2,000,000 undeliverable articles go to the Dead Letter Office every year, the post office announces. Many of these articles would never reach the Dead Letter Office if reasonable care had been taken in the addressing of them. Moreover, in the majority of cases the senders fail to put their name and address on the outside of the letters and parcels, which meant that the articles had to be opened for examination and in many instances there was no indication as to the sender's name and address, so that the articles had to be sold. Therefore, the post office advises senders to write their name and address on the outside of the article, in order that if it is undeliverable, it may be returned promptly and unopened.
FORBIDDEN
"Sweetheart, if you do not promise to be mine I will kill myself!" the youth cried theatrically as he knelt before his lady love.
"Oh, surely you will not do that!" "I will. I'll go out on my own front lawn and hang myself on a limb of a tree. Then perhaps you will regret your heartlessness."
"George, George, you must! Promise me you won't do that!" "Ah! Then you do love me!" "No. But did you tell me that if I let you hang around here and he found it out, he would cut my allowance in half?"

THE MAN TO MARRY
The following rules were given by a minister recently in a sermon on marriage:
(1) Don't marry a man you don't know thoroughly.
(2) Don't marry a man you expect to reform.
(3) Don't marry a man who is not intelligent or who does not love you the same way.
(4) Don't marry a man who does not respect womanhood.
(5) Don't marry a man whom other men and children do not respect.
(6) Don't marry an egotist.
(7) Don't marry a man who can't support you.
(8) Don't marry a man who hasn't any sense of humor.
(9) Don't marry a man who is not approximately your own age and interests.
(10) Don't marry a man who has led a fast life.
The minister added that the man whom it is positively safe to marry is the one whom you know to be clean, capable and chivalrous; whom you love and who loves you; a man who has sufficient of a winning sense of humor and, most important of all, a man the stamp of whose life and church ideals and habits a good woman is willing to have her children bear.

HELPERICH IS KILLED, MOTHER WRECK VICTIM
German Financial Authority, Who Opposed Reparations, Is Dead
Bern, April 24.—Dr. Karl Helfferich, 51, eminent German financial authority, and his mother, were among those killed in the collision of two express trains near Bollingen yesterday.
Dr. Helfferich was booked to begin a series of campaign speeches in Germany Wednesday night in aid of the Nationalist cause.
Dr. Karl Helfferich, financier and politician, had been a member of various government posts, including at various times the positions of ambassador to Russia, secretary of the interior, vice-chancellor and director of the Deutsche Bank. In January, 1915, he was elected to the Reichstag as a member of the right wing. He became minister of the treasury and was in charge of the German war loans.
After the war, as a member of the Reichstag, he constantly opposed any government policy which it was to pay reparations. He came out in opposition to the recent report of the reparations experts because the plan embodied in the report, he claimed, was too burdensome for the German to assume.
Dr. Helfferich was one of those who were condemned for Germany's illegal methods of warfare. In 1915, while minister of the interior and vice-chancellor, he made pronouncements in favor of deportations from the territory occupied by the German forces and the execution of the ruthless submarine campaign.
His attitude toward the Reichstag brought him into conflict with that body, which responded to his attacks by holding up his salary as vice-chancellor and in 1917 he resigned that position.
The following year he went to Moscow as ambassador to Soviet Russia, but after a short stay returned to Berlin and gave up his post because he did not agree with the policies pursued by the Soviet government.
Later he began a reactionary campaign, calling upon the young men to rebel against "the men who betrayed the fatherland."
It was because of his campaign he singled out Dr. Matthias Erzberger, whom he blamed for the collapse of Germany, and was promptly arrested with a suit for libel, in consequence of which he was fined 300 marks.

JAS. STEADMAN, Secretary-Treasurer.

CONDOR FARMERS' CLUB
A meeting of the Condor Farmers' Club was held in the Community Hall on Saturday, April 19. As usual, hog shipping was discussed, also the proposed packing plant to be established in Red Deer. It was moved by Mr. Avery and seconded by Mr. Prendergast that the Farmers' Club be in favor of a packing plant, provided it be a cooperative one, and the secretary, Mr. Stenhouse, was instructed to write the secretary of the Red Deer Board of Trade for all information concerning same. It was agreed that several farmers should grow potatoes of the same kind and endeavor to sell by cash lot, after which the meeting adjourned for four weeks.
D. S. HASTIE, Official Reporter.

ROD AND GUN FOR MAY
The first part of an actual timber surveying trip in Northern Ontario is given in the May issue of Rod and Gun in Canada by T. A. Higgins, dealing with every phase of the "work" while G. P. Staden has a good story on a novel canoe trip in May with the snow still on the ground. "Rushed by a Grizzly" is an exciting account of a perilous adventure by John Cook, and Mark G. McIlhenny gave an interesting article on the exciting story of the Banff Park. The sneaking wildcats along the Clyde River, Nova Scotia, give Bonaventure a subject matter for a well written article, while "A Wild Goose Chase in Newfoundland," by E. G. Galloway, is an unusual and well told story. H. W. Fry continues his series on shooting from the six point rest, and F. C. Ness has a practical article on making small game and targets on the "go" easy for shooters. The stirring adventure of Captain Douders, the man who went after timber wolves in the north in winter, makes fascinating reading in all the regular departments. We are all well stocked with interest in preparation for the summer season, the May number of Rod and Gun in Canada contains some phase of practically every sportsman's interests.

FARNUM LAUDS NEW "SPOILERS"

When Colonel Selig, one of the pioneers of the motion picture game, produced Rex Beach's epic of Alaska more than ten years ago Farnum played the leading part, that of Roy Glenister. The picture was a world-wide success and so was Farnum.

In every walk of life theatregoers still talk of the fight in "The Spoilers" between Farnum and Tom Santschi. Farnum, a giant of a man, sat next to the producer during the screening of the picture that comes Thursday to the Rex Theatre. Several times as the audience applauded loudly he gripped the producer by the hand. His emotion was plain to be seen as he watched the picture that, when first produced, brought him fame and fortune. Upon leaving the little theatre, the actor seized Milton Sills, who interprets the role of Glenister in the new version, and congratulated him. "Marvellous, immense," he said. "It is the greatest picture I have ever seen. I would have given ten years of my life to have played the part again."

Mistress — "Goodness, Bridget, where is our telephone?"
Bridget — "Mrs. Jones sent over, mum, asking for the use of it, and I sent it over, but I had the devil's own time getting it off the wall, mum."
